Blind Corps - Project Nepal 2012

The mission of BLIND CORPS is to share the knowledge and experience of American rehabilitation professionals with persons of developing nations who are interested in the advancement of the blind, including; the blind themselves, their friends and families, rehabilitation workers, support organizations and government agencies. Our primary goal is the empowerment of blind people as they strive for economic, social and political equality.

Blind Corps is preparing for Project Nepal 2012, following three successful training programs in the Republic of Turkey (2007, 2008 and 2010). Our Blind Corps team of ten professionals will provide training in both Kathmandu and Biratnagar during the month of March.

Nepalese Board Member, and Project Coordinator, Buna Dahal spent 5 weeks in Biratnagar during the Spring of 2011 making initial project preparations. Our program will empower blind youth through enhancing their Braille literacy and information technology skills, white-cane travel techniques and strategies for independent living. Further yet, we will work with prospective employers and educational institutions to improve opportunities for gainful employment and access to relevant degree programs.

Our fund raising goal is $50,000. We are asking for your financial support. Help us make Project Nepal 2012 a reality.
